White Sox Triumph in Their First Local Appearance of Season---Giants' Invasion of St. Louis Marked by Victory

CHAMPIONS TAKE YANKS INTO CAMP

Rowland's White Sox Hooverize Their Hits and Win by Score of 6 to 2.

By FREDERICK G. LIEB.

The Sox Hooverised their hits yesterday. They made ten hits and jammed them into four innings. In the other five rounds only one man reached base. A freak feature of the game was that not a single Yankee outfielder had a chance to catch a fiy ball during the game. The infield, however, was very busy. Pipp had fourteen chances: Pratt, ien Baker, nine, and Peck, eight. The Cubs managed to get a run over, the pan in the same inning as the result of a pass to first for Paskert and a passed ball that let him go to second. And when Gonzales threw to catch him off the bag went merrily on to third. He scored when Holke batted one just in back of third that counted for a double. Niehoff followed with a single through Betzel and Holke made home safely when Gonzales threw to catch him off the bag went merrily on to third. He scored when Holke batted one just in back of third that counted for a double. Niehoff followed with a single through Betzel and Holke made home safely when Holke made home safely when in the fourth. Eddle Collins walked and rah to third on Felsch's single to right. Coar took second on the throw to get Eddle at third. Both scored when Weaver cracked a single to centre. Buck started on a steal of second, but never stopped running until he crossed the plate. When Hannah's per rolled to the cutfield he tore on to third, and when Miller's throw hit him in the shoulder he made the rest of the journey.

Break Through in Seventh. The Yanks scored their first run is but Beck, hitting for Mogridge, sent in Ping with a sacrifice fly.

Russell started pitching for New York in the eighth, and the Sox quickly got to him for a run. McMullin singled and riole and Ed Collins walked. Weaver's single drove in McMullin, the third run Buck Russeled for Carter 'hen pulled himself together and retired Johnston on a foul fly to Merkle, while Schmandt was out on a grounder to Kilduff.

The Cube managed to get a run over.

Truck Hannah made history in the fifth inning when he stole second while Eimer Miller held the bag. Truck, however, had an allbi, his tiny boss. Miller dilugins, was coaching at first base.

After this fatal slip Miller remained off the coaching lines for the rest of the afternoon.

Love pitched two perfect innings before the Sox hopped on him in the third inning. Shano Collins knocked a single to centre, and was forced by Schalk. Williams singled to right, and on an attiffed double steal Schalk was out at third. Leibold singled and McMullin, who had a big day at bat, singled Williams home.

The Sox came back with three more in the fourth. Eddie Collins walked and ran to third on Felsch's single to right.

Mann at first Paskert crossed the rubber. Flack walked, but Merkle popped to O'Mara.

The Cubs got their last run in the brought the inning to a close with a foul to Paullette.

POOR START SPOILS | HIGH LIGHTS AND SHADOWS IN ALL SPHERES OF SPORT

6 T AM not anxious to dispose of Omar Khayyam, but if anybody is determined to obtain the horse he will have to offer $200,000 to get him." With that statement at the Jamaica track yesterday afternoon Wilfred Viau, owner of Omar Khayyam, placed a price on the famous four-year-old. Edward B. McLean of Washington some time ago offered $75,000 for the imported colt, but Viau disposed of that offer with a laugh. It turned out that McLean had mentioned that sum only as a feeler in an effort to learn whether Omar Khayyam was for sale. Yesterday an agent for McLean came to the Jamaica track and reopened the matter with Viau. He asked point blank, "What will you take for the colt?" and Viau Rice won the newly instituted title yesterday approhibitive price indicates that he does not want to sell the fine looking solden chestnut, As horse values go now $100,000 would be a splendid offer for the colt, but that is about the limit for any horse alive. Comoffered $75,000 for the imported colt, but Viau disposed of that offer with a looking solden chestnut. As horse values go now $100,000 would be a splendid offer for the colt, but that is about the limit for any horse alive. Commander J. K. L. Ross, who owns Cudgel, the latest star in the Eastern racing firmament, said last Saturday after his colt had won the Kings County at Jamaica that he would not take $100,000 for him. Coming in the wake of the recent statement of Sam Hildreth that Houriess, since retired to the stud, would not have been sold for $150,000 it indicates that the thoroughbred market has advanced far beyond its state of the halcyon era of the turf. Viau paid $26,500 for Omar Khayyam at auction, while Cudgel cost Com-mander Ross $30,000. These were very big prices last year and now they talk of $100,000 without blinking an eye. Evidently the war has done racing

The new standard for high class thoroughbreds reminds us that E. R. Thomas, who used to pay high in the olden days, made his first appearance on a track in fifteen years at Jamaica last Saturday. We remember when Thomas paid L. V. Bell $55,000 for Hermis. Under the guidance of the late turf, and when Thomas acquired him at the figure mentioned he had the racing world by the ears. Hermis certainly was not as good a horse as Omar Khayyam. Now we find ourselves in the era of the $100,000 horse—and he's Kauff to Go Soon, but Robertson May Come Back.

The wild howl for succor recently emitted by the rest of the National League in its hopeless view of the trampling progress of the Giants may be answered soon. We have it that Benny Kauff has been ordered to report to the National Army camp at Chillicothe within the next two weeks. In view of Kauff's splendid work in hitting and fielding his going would tear a big gap in the defensive and offensive structure of the New Yorks. Add to that the loss of Doyle and the possible loss of Rube Benton, not to speak of the imminent return of Hal Chase to first base on the Reds and the retention of the hard hitting Sherwood Magee as one of Matty's outfield, and you will appreciate that the task of the Giants is not likely to prove the easy o it appeared to be just a fornight ago.

to the club. When Herman Schaeffer went to Norfolk last month to see Robertson about signing a contract the outfielder said that he had determined George W. Loft's to keep out of the game, but that he would return if McGraw, because of the ravages of the draft, needed him badly. With Kauff and Doyle out of the game McGraw certainly would need Davey and he may come back.

This is the time of the year when the last holdout succumbs and the player who has "retired" for the first time jumps back into spangles. The was the best of her sex last year and as a two-year-old in 1916, bowed a ten-first "retired" player to change his mind is Cy Williams, who was traded by don in a trial yeaterday morning at Bel-mont Park and probably will never race form in Wisconsin. Williams has signed with Moran and may be expected

Yanks Get Bedient and McGraw Gets Army Call.

Hugh Bedient is another retired player who soon will return to the game. It was announced by the New York Americans yesterday that they had purchased Bedient from Toledo of the American Association was with Bresnahan's team last season, but this year has refused to report, and has been rusticating on his farm at Falconer, N. Y. Bedient will be field of three-year-olds maidens. Be- remembered as the Red Sox pitcher who spilled the beans for the Giants in cause of his victory in this race he lost the world's series of 1912, in which he gained a decision over Matty. Hughle a winning mount. While an apprentice jumped to the Federal League, in which he proved nothing out of the ordinary, and later played a short engagement with the Cubs. The acquisition of Bedient was made necessary by the call of Bob McGraw, the Colorado youngster, into the National Army yesterday. McGraw came to the club from Colorado College last year and was farmed out to Newark, where he did well enough to merit his recall.

Yanks Left With Smallest Pitching Staff in Their History. Even with the addition of Bedient the Yankees will be left with only six itchers—the smallest staff in the history of the club. Last week Ed Monroe went away to build ships and now McGraw goes. Even in its worse seasons this team had at least ten hurlers, but this is a year of pitching famine. Huggins will have to get along with Love, Caldwell, Mogridge, Russell, Thormahlen and Bedient. The scarcity of experienced pitchers is demonstrated by the offer of $6,000 made by the Yankees to George Foster, who is a holdout and was traded by the Red Sox to the Reds for Dave Shean. Foster not only declines the offer, but adds that under no circumstances would be play in New York Just why Foster holds that attitude toward this poor old city nobody seems The change from his razor back ranch down in Oklahoma probably would be too much for George, at that,

New Rule Permits National League Clubs to Meet in Exhibitions. Some days ago all clubs in the National League were notified by John Fried, 672 Wales avenue, olds in training. Among them are Willis K. Tener that they would be permitted to play exhibition games among them- at 1:40:59 P. M. He sped the distance Sharps Kilmer's Sun Briar and W. E. selves on off days. In past years this practice was forbidden during the of 211.23 miles in 4 hours 30 minutes applicate's Jack Hare, Jr. Sun Briar championship season, but the fact that so many minor leagues have gone to and 59 seconds, making an average of the wall and divers good baseball cities are left without professional baseball 1.375,63 yards a minute prompted the league to make the decision.

Sunday baseball in Washington also had something to do with it, for National League clubs are to be permitted to play in the capital when the Senators are in the West. The Giants and the Reds are tentative opponents for a game in Washington on June 2. The first clubs to take advantage of Horse Will Horse the new rule were Pittsburg and Brooklyn, which played an exhibition at Green Mint. 114 Comfort Canton, Ohio, last Sunday. The Pirates plan to play at Canton quite regularly. It is to be hoped that the change will not hamper the clubs in their plans to play benefits for war funds. So far there has not been a single such ben in either league. Gen. Pershing Writes of the Value of Sport.

Girls' Championship.

final of the tourney which had been started on Saturday. The score was 6-2, 6-2. On Sunday Miss Rice played her first match and won over Miss Janet Travell, at 6-3, 3-6, 6-2. Yesterday the new at 6-3, 3-6, 6-2. Yesterday the new title holder started her progress toward the goal by eliminating Miss Joy Hansel, at 6-4, 6-4. Miss Aydelotte before meeting Miss Rice scored with little trouble over Miss Louise Kreuter, at 6-1, 6-2, and over Miss Ruth Goldsmith, at 6-4, 6-3.

The final was a test between vigorous tennis, as demonstrated by Miss Rice, and polished style, shown by Miss Aydelotte. The latter played with remarkable grace and finish, but her rival had the greater power in her drives, and that in the long run counted most. Both finalists will play in the doubles, which will be played on Friday and Saturday. The summaries:

Singles: Second Round—Miss Winifred Aydelotte defeated Miss Louise Kreuter, 5-1, 6-2; Miss Helen Rice defeated Miss Janst Travell, 6-3, 3-6, 5-2; Semi-Final Round—Miss H. ### RICHARDS IN FINAL, AND SO IS TAYLOR Gain Final Bracket in Brooklyn Junior Singles.

Vincent Richards, the national boys' champion, and Harold Taylor will meet next Saturday for the junior tennis championship of Brooklyn. They entered the final round of the titular tournament yesterday afternoon on the courts of the Terrace Club of Flatbush Biobards moved account with comcourts of the Terrace Club of Flat-bush. Richards moved around with con-siderable agility and scored a double triumph. After taking the measure of Richard Myers of Philadelphia in the third round at 6—0, 6—2, the Yonkers youth eliminated Gerald Emerson of East Orange in the semi-final round at 6—0, 6—4.

Rodney Beck of Philadelphia was to ave met Emerson in the third round but defaulted.

Taylor played spectacular tennis in defeating G. B. Pfingst of Philadelphia in a three set tussle that bristled with action. The Brookyn hoy lost the opening set, but came back strong in the second and organized a successful counter raily in the third. The tally was 2-6, 6-4 and 7-5. Richards was in one of his rare moods, especially in his match with Emerson. It had been conceded that Richards would beat Myers, but there was a suspicion that Emerson might stop him. However, Richards dispose of the Jersey boy in a keen fight at the net.
